Volunteer, Internship, and Other Enrichment Opportunities

City Wide Community Based Organization (CBO) Fair on Thursday, October 3, 2013. The purpose of the CBO Fair is to encourage underrepresented students to become involved with the richness of what CBO's in New York City have to offer. For a number of reasons, students are often not involved in after school activities. One of the main reasons for this is a lack of information or discovering particular programs once it is too late to effect any major change in their college access trajectory. The goal for the CBO Fair is to expose students to college related activities BEFORE they become seniors in high school.

Students and families are welcome to attend. This will be a great opportunity for students to enroll in volunteer activities, internships, academic enrichment programs, SAT prep classes, art programs, sport programs and many others too numerous to mention. These programs are either FREE or very low cost, and can provide leadership opportunities and life experiences for students throughout their high school years. By participating in these programs, students will become stronger candidates for college admission, and will have had various experiences to enhance their college applications, discover college essays topics, and build on their resumes to discuss during a college or work interview. Please attend, bring friends and spread the word! If you have any questions please contact Carla Shere, Ed.D. at 212.854.3897 or cs113@columbia.edu.
